Outline

What will the course cover?

Each session is considered a module. If a module is missed, a practitioner can make up the missed session next term. However, only a maximum of 2 modules can be made up next term. Any more than two and the course must be started again. Each practitioner who completes this course to a high enough standard will receive a certificate to acknowledge their ability to carry out SEND Support in an Early Years setting.

Outcome

Each practitioner who completes this course to a high enough standard will receive a certificate to acknowledge their ability to carry out this important function in an Early Years setting.

- Practitioners will be able to support and advise colleagues working in the setting.
- Practitioners will be able to communicate effectively with other professionals who may be involved in working with a family with a child with SEND.
- Practitioners will be able to identify a child with SEND and offer strategies to support children in the setting.

Audience For Early Years Private, Voluntary and Independent (PVI) sector setting practitioners only.
